InformationWeek is reporting that Voice-over-IP provider Raketu on Wednesday rolled out a Windows Mobile version of its software for making cheap international calls on smartphones. The downloadable application is intended for smartphones running the PPC2003, Windows Mobile 5, and Windows Mobile 6 operating systems. Raketu provides a Skype-like service that enables VoIP calls from computers and mobile devices.

The company has “free calling zones” in more than 40 countries where users can make free international phone calls. Users can purchase a $9.95, $24.95, or $49.95 package to prepay for minutes not included in the free zones, according to Raketu. In locations not covered by the free zones, Raketu charges a cheap calling rate, which varies by country.
