Raketu Shines With Flexibility, Unification and Low Price

Wednesday March 11, 2009

Raketu is a communications, social networking, information and entertainment service that is accessible on any device. People like to refer to Raketu as Skype meets MySpace meets YouTube meets Joost. Raketu offers these services in a unified manner - you can access it using your computer, mobile phone, fixed phone and any SIP-compliant hardware and software. The service is very rich in features, which include many of those that services like Jajah, Gizmo, Truphone and Fring provide. Raketu even compares, on its site, its prices against those of Skype.
